The Chinese in America: A Narrative History by Iris Chang

In the mid-19 th century, Chinese came to "Gold Mountain," as they called America, to join the "Gold Rush" that began at Sutter's Mill, Sacramento, California. As the lure of gold diminished, they came simply to work. Initially welcomed, they became a significant part of the labor force that laid the economic foundation of the American West.

The Chinese-American Experience: An Introduction

From 1882 to 1943 the United States Government severely curtailed immigration from China to the United States. This Federal policy resulted from concern over the large numbers of Chinese who had come to the United States in response to the need for inexpensive labor, especially for construction of the transcontinental railroad.
